The Role of Occupational Therapy in Psychosocial Interventions

The College position statement The Role of Occupational Therapy in Psychosocial Interventions was adopted by Council at its January meeting and is now available under 'Professional Standards and Practice Guidelines' under the Resources tab at www.acot.ca

Continuing Competence Plans now Available for 2010-2011

March 1st marks the start of the new College year and the launch of 2010-2011 continuing competence programs for members. All members of ACOT are required to participate in the program. Worksheets for the 2010-2011 plans are available online at www.acot.ca under the Continuing Competence tab. The documents are writeable, meaning you can type directly into the available text fields. As the program is executed over the course of the year, the worksheets should be updated, saved and printed. It is recommended that in-progress worksheets are electronically saved and printed for safekeeping.

Alberta Occupational Therapists Recognized in Awards Program

The Society of Occupational Therapists (SAOT) has announced the recipients of their 2009 awards for Clinical Teaching, Clinical Education and the SAOT/COTF Research Grant. Congratulations to all the award recipients. Check out the SAOT website at www.saot.ca for details.

New Courses, Conferences and Workshops

There are many exciting new professional development opportunities taking place in Alberta and across the country this spring. Currently over twenty upcoming events are listed at www.acot.ca, including 'The Occupation of Sleep' workshop sponsored by SAOT on March 5 & 6 and the first course in the new Certificate in Pain Management program offered by the U of Alberta starting in May. Take a look at the complete listing of courses, conferences and workshops under the Continuing Competence tab at www.acot.ca.

If you are organizing a workshop, seminar or course and would like to give notice to other occupational therapists, send your information to linda.holmes@acot.ca for posting to the College website.
